CIRCUS COMING.

Walter L. Main Shows in Barre Thursday, July 25.

We are going to have a real circus, big circus, one of those hustling, bustling institutions that rolls into town when all good folks are fast asleep in bed, remaining long enough to raise a tented city, give a parade and two performances, and, like the traditional Arab, fade away in the still darkness.

The Walter L. Main fashion plate shows will pitch tents in Barre Thursday, July 25, and if advance reports are to be believed, the Walter L. Main shows bid fair to be the peer of any tent show outfit that has ever spread its canvas within the confines of the city.

This is the forty-second annual tour of this organization and it is certainly no exaggeration to state that the Walter L. Main shows is one of the pioneers on circus entertainment, and has held an enviable reputation throughout these many years of its existence.

From the beginning of the mighty melange of novel and extraordinary aerial acts, equestrian feats, acrobatic stunts, animal acts, bicycle, roller skating and other notable specialties and features presented on elevated stage, together with all the other deeds of agility and daring which go to make up a big circus, acts follow acts with a precision and skill that is astounding, to say the least.

An important department of the big show is a large and diversified menagerie of rare and costly specimens of animal life from all quarters of the globe—adv.

D. F. Pollard, deputy collector of internal revenue with headquarters in Bellows Falls, has been transferred to St. Albans.

How to Make Clothes Last

Everybody remembers that old joke about making one's trousers first in order to make the coat last.

Nowadays every man is interested in making his whole suit last and the best way to do that is at first, when you buy it.

Buy good clothes; all-wool clothes; carefully tailored clothes. They cost a little more but they last so much longer that they save for you in the long run.

Such clothes save wool for the fighters and labor for war work because you don't have to buy so many of them.

are that kind and we feel that we're doing a real service for the men of this town in selling them.
